A Fragment from "Between the Bridges."

Ed. Roundabout:
As the weather and candidates have a right to be the topic of the day I write you thus:

Last Tuesday morning I heard a noise like that of a frog in my horse lot and dug in the ground a few inches and found it was a frog, alive and singing. I covered him up again for fear of trouble to him.

I have a thermometer that has stood in the same place for over 18 years, and the same kind of fluid used all the time, and has never failed to mark the temperature correctly as to freezing, using it as a guide. Last Tuesday night was the coldest in the past eighteen years. The thermometer referred to is very well, and not until then was there ever been a bit of ice on it. Wednesday morning the ice was half an inch thick all over the well. Other thermometers may mark different, but you may know I will believe mine to be correct. Moreover, all the fluid above ground froze up tight in this end of the county, except a few bottles of W. A. Gaines & Co.'s mixture that stood the test, and it was somewhat thickened but still was palatable.

Now as to those seeking county office. The men out here will all vote for Gen. Scott Brown for Senator, Geo. S. Green for County Clerk, and unless we have better officers to conduct the election, the men, women and children will all vote for Col. S. L. M. Major for Representative. Not that the officers of the election in the past missed their duty in holding elections, but that the people are up in arms about the matter. The women say they will vote if they have to wear breeches to the election.

Vinegar Co., Cincinnati, Ohio, as traveling salesman, and had in his possession a card of introduction from Bradstreet's Mercantile Agency. On Wednesday night he was a guest at the Bahr Hotel, Frankfort. The next heard of him was in the vicinity of Mrs. Major Tom Powers'. From his actions it was supposed he was crazy, having previous to his death divested himself of his outer wear, his pants were torn to shreds and his coats were found some distance from where the body was found. His clothing was such as any might be proud of. Nothing of value was found on his person. The remains were decently interred in the Cemetery at Graefenburg. Any information in regard to the matter may be obtained by applying to either, Wm. Gibbs, S. M. Tinsley, or Len. Blythe, Graefenburg.

Horrors of Mineral Poisoning.

When a young man of 25 years I took mercury in pills and was exposed to the weather, being a railroad man. The result was salivation and the poisoning of my whole system with mercury. I suffered untold misery for years. Some few years ago I broke the skin on my right leg, and the poison in my blood produced an ulcer, from which I suffered so much pain that amputation was regarded necessary. But instead of having the operation performed I commenced taking S. S. S. The ulcer has entirely disappeared, and no symptom of the blood poison left. I am in better health than I have been for years, and I have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best blood purifier in the world. I know whereof I speak, as I have given many of them a fair trial. I honestly believe that S. S. S. has added ten years to my life.

T. H. MORGAN, Ogleshorpe, Ga.

Painful Ulcers.

My mother, who is about seventy-five years old, and resident of Dooly county, had an ulcerated ankle which gave her great pain and trouble. It became aggravated to a fearful degree, and every application of known or suggested remedies failed to bring relief. Physicians prescribed, but to no avail. After six months suffering I induced her to try S. S. S. One bottle had the remarkable effect of producing a perfect cure, and there has been no return of the disease.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 14, 1885.

The new heating apparatus is being placed in the Opera House.

Mr. A. C. Wood, having been disappointed so often about the heating of the Opera House, has determined to have no more entertainments there until the new heating apparatus is in, tested, and found to come up to the requirements of making the house comfortable in the coldest weather. He has canceled all engagements and will not again throw the house open to the public until he knows that an audience will not suffer from cold while witnessing an entertainment.

Mr. J. K. Hamilton has executed a first class photograph of the old "Stone School-house" at Woodlake, where so many of our citizens went to school, and to look upon it brings back the many happy hours of childhood spent there. The old buckeye tree is missing and very little of the hillside playground is shown in the picture, but it is the same old house it was a half century ago, and every scholar who obeyed the call to "books" there, or helped to "bar out" a teacher on circus day will want a copy of it. Call and see it at Hamilton's gallery.

Mr. Ed. C. Went, Jr., died at the residence of his father, in South Frankfort, Wednesday afternoon, at two and a half o'clock, after a lingering illness, in his nineteenth year. Being a member of the State Guard, he attended the encampment at Louisville in August, and contracted malarial fever, which confined him to bed for several months, but he finally recovered and was going about when he took a cold which settled upon his lungs, producing consumption, of which he died. He was a young man of great promise, universally popular with young and old, and his death is a great loss to his afflicted family. He was a printer by trade and an employee of the Yeoman office. The funeral took place yesterday morning from the Baptist Church, the services being conducted by Rev. G. F. Bagby, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. McC. Blayney and Prof. J. D. Pickett.

The steamer Hornet, on her up trip Tuesday morning, was blown against the cribbing at Lock No. 1 by the heavy wind prevailing at the time, and a large hole knocked in her hull. She sank in about twenty minutes in twenty-five feet water, only her Texas remaining above the surface. She had a number of passengers on board, and a large lot of freight. The yawl and life boats belonging to the boat were so tightly frozen to the hurricane deck that they could not be gotten loose, and those on board could not get ashore except by means of a small boat brought off to their relief by the Lock-keeper. As soon as Miss Nellie Sanders, of this city, and the chambermaid, the only females on the boat, were taken off, Mr. H. B. Cammack, of this city, the Second Clerk, threw off his overcoat, jumped in the water and swam ashore with a line, which he made fast, to a tree but the capstan failed to work and the boat drifted down stream. He was followed by most of the crew, many of whom he had to pull out of the water, where they were clinging to willows on the river bank. Capt. Sam Sanders, the old veteran, was temporarily in command of the boat, and was the last to leave her, being taken off in a skiff. Mr. Cammack walked down to Carrollton, a distance of four miles, after he got ashore, to enter a protest for the boat, and had his ears badly frosted. The boat set squarely upon the bottom of the river and it is thought can be raised without great damage. The Kentucky River Navigation Company, who own her, seem to be very unfortunate, as they lost the Fannie Freese in November by fire at the Madison wharf, and now have several troublesome law suits with parties who were damaged by the fire.

The boat cost $12,000 and is fully covered by fire and marine insurance. The Underwriters have her in charge and will raise her in a few days.

Persons wishing to buy a farm should not forget that the sale of Elder John A. Sidener's place comes off on Tuesday.

Ex-Gov. John P. St. John, of Kansas, will deliver a temperance lecture at the Opera House on Wednesday evening next, Feb. 18th.

During the thunder storm Monday morning the lightning ran into the telephone exchange and damaged the switch board considerably.

The grand jury failed to indict Thos. Dobson, colored, for the cutting of Bud Egbert, the proof before them showing that he acted in self-defense.

Rev. J. B. Tharp has accepted a call to take charge of the Baptist Church at Lagrange half his time, and has removed his family from Louisville to that place.

Mr. Wm. O. Riddell, formerly of this city but now of Richmond, was married on the 5th inst. to Miss Amelia Fox, daughter of a leading farmer of Madison county.

During the thunder storm of Monday morning the wire of the Louisville telephone line was struck near the residence of Mr. Jos. Robinson and four poles shattered.

Mrs. Emily Tubman, of Augusta, Georgia, sister of Mr. L. A. Thomas, of this city, has recently given $1,000 towards the erection of a Christian Church in Athens, Georgia.

Capt. Sam. Sanders has been steam-bathing on the Ohio and Kentucky rivers for fifty-three years and never had a serious accident happen to a boat under his charge until the sinking of the Hornet on Tuesday.

Our Bridgeport correspondent was mistaken in stating last week that Mr. Colon M. Jones had purchased the Whittington place, as we are informed by Mr. Jones that he did not buy it, and the price given was much less than is asked for the place.

Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, will meet in regular monthly convocation, at their asylum in Odd Fellow's Temple, on Thursday evening next, at 7 o'clock. As business of great importance will be presented a full attendance of the Sir Knights is desired.

If the ground hog really did skip back into his hole after seeing his shadow on the 21st inst. he acted wisely, for everyone else in this section felt like following his example when the ragged edge of the Weather Bureau's "white cyclone" struck us on Monday night. As a weather prophet he is no slouch.

Mr. Sanford T. Egbert (Bud), who was stabbed in a difficulty on Broadway street with a colored man by the name of Thos. Dobson, on the 25th of November, died Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the effects of his wounds. The funeral took place from the residence of his father Monday afternoon. He leaves a young wife to mourn his loss.

We are glad to say to the public that the old reliable Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, has resumed business in Kentucky and has reappointed Mr. S. C. Bull their agent. It one of the oldest and is the largest Company in the world and its rates are 15 per cent less than any other Company. Call at McClure & Bros. and see Mr. Bull and let him write a policy on your life—today is the promise.

In the Circuit Court, Tuesday, Henry Finney, the colored boy who robbed Messrs. Wakefield & Wood's cash drawer about a year ago and made his escape to Chicago, was given two years in the Penitentiary.

Bob Green, colored, for stealing Henry Pulliam's gun, was given one year in the Penitentiary Wednesday.

The jury in the case of the Jenkins boys, charged with the murder of John Lewis Dally, near Peak's Mill, about two years ago, failed to agree and were discharged.

In the case of William Robinson, colored, charged with shooting Silas Miller, also colored, about two months ago, the jury found him guilty of a misdemeanor and fixed his fine at $150.

Profs. G. Hog and G. Bone seem to have corroborated each other in their weather prognostications for this month.

This is St. Valentine's day, and the comic valentine will be in demand, while school children will beseege the post-office.

Many of the bitters and quick poisons of the day are also advertised for consumption on the plan that the only thing the "stall" wont cure is the aversions, ignoble greed of the proprietor. Don't be deceived. The best remedy for strengthening the lungs, soothing all irritation, and stopping the cough, is Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. It has cured many cases where physicians have given up hope.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Tioga.

FEBRUARY 4, 1885.

Editor Roundabout:

"NEW ORLEANS EXPOSITION."

The three curious tourists, Messrs. J. P. Moore, M. Rodgers and J. P. Huette have just returned from the renowned World's Exposition, at New Orleans. From the purport of their conversation we learn that a trip to that Exposition is within the reach of anyone desirous of both sight seeing and pleasure seeking. Those gentlemen report weather in New Orleans like unto our month of June, yet it was damp and rainy during all their sojourn there. Air mild and salubrious. Water for drinking purposes warm. The whole face of the earth a green carpet of fragrant vegetation. Orange trees laden with luxuriant fruit in every yard, lawn and park. Everything so inviting, both to eye and taste, as to constantly invite tourists to that warm and salubrious clime. The gentlemen took rooms at the Vauxey Hotel, in the principal thoroughfare of the city, and were treated to all the kindest hospitality of our Southern friends. The city is subjected to a European plan. Hotels rent rooms for lodging, and lodgers are expected to eat at the nearest restaurant. The World's Exposition is well deserving of its name, for in the eleven buildings, which cover 23 acres of land under roof, are found exhibits from every country, and every nationality in the human race is there walking upon feet. The Exposition Park is reached by railroads from every direction, and no tiring or bewildering about finding the Exposition. The Exposition grounds have ten entrances, and 50 cents pays the entrance. Space will not permit us to mention but few of the exhibits, but suffice it to say the gentlemen saw a section of a tree of the pine species, cut 100 feet from the ground, that was 28 feet in diameter, with bark 2 feet thick. The different buildings for exhibit range from 100 feet wide to 125 feet long, and the park has all the necessary appliances for modern accommodations. With a view to economy in traveling expenses, one can easily go from this vicinity to New Orleans, remain a few days and take an extensive view of all parts of the city and Exposition for 35 dollars. The route from here to New Orleans through the many localities in the several States, is studded with many scenes to meet the waking and enquiring eye of the true tourist.

But for the constant devotion of Mr. Moore while patrolling the streets of that grand Creole city "one beer, two beer," etc., the gentlemen enjoyed a constant outflow of both pleasure and profit. Had Mr. Moore been so restrained as to center his thoughts more upon the objects of a Southern tour than upon a "beer" the whole trip to all these gentlemen would have been a trip of perfect pleasure and improvement. To those wishing to go to that Exposition, we would say go! Don't let 35 dollars of economy and travel trifle with your conscientious scruples any longer. I would also insist that all tourists provide themselves with a lunch devoted wholly laden with such common, staple food as would last them a few days, and follow the above instructions, we would insure that all would be well as a marriage bell.

A plan for the new school-house and chapel, drawn by Mr. Clarke, of Louisville, is on exhibition at the office of W. L. Pence. Tax-payers and subscribers are invited to call and see whether they wish to adopt it or not. The estimated cost is about twelve hundred dollars. The subscriptions and taxes do not amount to quite that much. Anyone wishing to subscribe anything in cash or work are earnestly solicited to do so. A fence has been built around the lot and enough stone hauled to build the foundation.

Mr. Editor:—I and my neighbors have been led so many times into buying different things for the liver, kidneys and blood that have done us more harm than good.
